

Friends of puffta raise £1000 for Crusaid...

Simon Johnson, editor of Puffta.co.uk and his gorgeous girlie friend Teri Godly sweat it out with thousands of walkers to raise money for Crusaid.

Over 3000 walkers checked in at the National Theatre to join Sir Ian McKellen, John Barrowman and Dannii Minogue cut the ribbon to start Walk for Life 2005. While the sun may have been blazing, the sweat was dripping; Teri & Simon made it to the end following a pack of topless muscle men.

Teri said "If it wasn't for watching the sweat drip down their backs, and making a rather nice outline of their butts I think I would have given up around Embankment!"

Simon Johnson who's currently cover lad (he's too old to be cover boy) for this month's Positive Nation interrupted Teri to say "Thank you so much to everybody who sponsored Teri and me, with more and more people becoming positive, fund raising is vital to keep the charities and people living with HIV/AIDS alive, we'll be back next year on the 25th of June 2006 to beat this year's target!"

Notes for editors.

Puffta.co.uk: Puffta is a national web site aimed at gay teens. We're 6 years old this year! Oozing with style, puffta.co.uk packs in loads of gay teen features. The boys at puffta say it's like the girlie magazine SUGAR or 19, only its online and for gay boys". Puffta is gay teen owned, run by a dedicated team of gay boys, and is exclusively for gay teens.

Crusaid: Crusaid was set up in 1986 by a small group of friends in response to the distress and tragedy that was happening around the time that Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome (AIDS) first appeared in the 1980s. The number of people who were dying of AIDS-related illnesses at the time was rapidly rising and Crusaid started to fund projects such as in-patient hospital wards and helping with funeral expenses. www.crusaid.org.uk

PositiveAdam.co.uk: PositiveAdam.co.uk is an online diary of Adam Bruce, a gay teen who's HIV Positive. Covering everything from his seroconversion, his "counts" and daily diary charting his health and learning's about HIV & AIDS. PositiveAdam launched in March 2005.
